Lithuanian colleagues on the other hand, shared experience concerning the audit of the state energy efficiency. Lithuania has already finished such an audit, whereas NIK is going to conduct one.

The Polish-Lithuanian energy bridge comprises four energy lines and seven power stations. It was launched in December 2015 and connects the Lithuanian Alytus with the Polish Ełk. It enables transfer of 500 MW energy and a potential power increase up to 1000 MW is considered. In the first seven months of its operation the energy was transferred in both directions, however more was imported to Poland. No irregularities concerning the awarding and implementation of contracts were found in course of the audit. Ministry of Economy, and after its liquidation Ministry of Energy, properly supervised the investment. The Polish Energy Networks (Polskie Sieci Energetyczne SA) undertook the II stage investments (aimed to increase the power up to 1000MW). According to NIK even if the transfer is not increased, the infrastructure will be utilised.

Development of inter-systemic connections increases the security of energy deliveries. Therefore, a gas interconnection to link Poland and Lithuania is currently being constructed. The investment is planned to be completed in December 2021. The project aims to integrate the gas market in the European Union.

Energy efficiency is the most economical production and use of energy. According to a EU member states should increase their energy efficiency by 1/5 by 2020. Experts stress that efficiency depends majorly on two stakeholders: authorities and citizens. The state should establish regulations that would encourage to save energy. Citizens, on the other hand, should remember that turning off excessive lights and using modern devices brings financial benefits. At the same time the government should eliminate the so called energy poverty, so cases in which families cannot satisfy their energy needs.

NIK President, as Vice-President of EUROSAI, and the Lithuanian Auditor General also discussed current issues regarding the implementation of the EUROSAI Strategic Plan.

Heads of SAIs also visited the Rasos Cemetery and laid flowers on Józef Piłsudski's mother grave and his heart's resting place, as well as on the grave of dr. Jonas Basanavicius, a signatory of the 1918 Lithuanian Act of Independence.
